IDC Spring Introduces New Website

Coon Rapids, Minnesota (April 12, 2019) – IDC Spring, the maker of garage door and mechanical springs, has launched a new website, www.idcspring.com a site aimed at creating a user friendly experience showcasing our manufacturing abilities.

The new website combines a comprehensive listing of mechanical and garage door springs. The site will be of tremendous value to manufacturers, wholesalers and small businesses. “We expect tremendous sales and customer education through our convenient, user-friendly website.” said, Jenny McGrath, Director of Sales and Marketing.

Many businesses are looking for information to help them with an engineering solution and this website is designed to support business with finding the right product for their application...

IDC Spring is the leading spring manufacturer in the garage door industry. Its springs and service are known for customized services and offering solutions made simple. The company’s mission is to move people forward with purpose and currently employs 160 people in the greater Minneapolis, MN, Piqua, OH and Mesa, AZ areas and has won local awards for its Top Workplace. The company’s website at www.idcspring.com contains additional information.
